Coordinate single-agency or multi-agency response, with faster, more accurate dispatch

WHAT IS THE PROBLEM?

Every day your dispatch center balances multiple needs and loads of information to dispatch help as fast as possible. Whether you dispatch single agency, or work with multiple agencies, including police, fire and EMS—you need to coordinate communication and efforts between departments, agencies, disciplines and jurisdictions. When major events and disasters strike the stakes get even higher. Every second counts and you have to make sure everyone at the scene gets the right help right where it's needed.

WHAT IS THE SOLUTION?

CentralSquare Enterprise CAD offers the latest innovative capabilities, including technology that maximizes interoperability between departments for smarter, more coordinated response. The industry's most advanced location and recommendation capabilities and automation tools simplify and speed up your work, allowing you to easily send the right units to the right location. Advanced GIS-centric mapping gives essential location information. Integrate 911 for new levels of information.
