WHAT IS THE PROBLEM?

Public safety agencies like yours face common challenges—like managing too much information on spreadsheets and paper, spending too much time on administrative tasks, and being asked for more and more information from regulating and reporting authorities. On top of that, add in the increased drug and mental health epidemics, body cams, and piles of data that exists in silos and doesn't lead to clear actionable strategies.

FULL-TIME SWORN OFFICER-CIVILIAN RATIO DOWN 11%

According to the Bureau of Justice Statistics, the average number of full-time sworn officers per 1,000 U.S. residents decreased from 2.42 in 1997 to 2.17 in 2016 (down 11%).

MORE THAN 130 OPIOID-RELATED DEATHS EVERY DAY

Throughout 2016-2017, more than 130 people died every day from opioid-related drug overdoses.

ONLY 1% INCREASE IN GOVERNMENT BUDGET IN 38 YEARS

State and local government spending for police and corrections has grown by only 1% in 38 years—to an overall 6% of the total budget.

WHAT IS THE SOLUTION?

With increased administrative tasks, coupled with rising citizen demands and near stagnant public funding, more agencies rely on CentralSquare software to address their software and IT needs. With one unified system that covers more agency responsibilities across departments, your staff spends less time entering and retrieving information. The managed server model also means less time spent on IT. Agencies quickly implement and onboard the easy-to-use Pro solutions and configure them to fit the way they work as well as adapt to their evolving needs. With more automation and better use of data that provides the right information where it is needed, agencies are better informed, make better decisions, and are better equipped to accomplish their mission.
